The OSHA Outreach Training Program for the Construction Industry provides training for workers and employers on the recognition, avoidance, abatement, and prevention of safety and health hazards in workplaces in the construction industry. The program provides information regarding workers’ rights, employer responsibilities, and how to file a complaint. The 10-hour class is intended for the entry level workers, while the 30-hour class is more appropriate for the supervisors or workers with some safety responsibility. Through this training, OSHA helps to ensure that workers are more knowledgeable about workplace hazards and their rights, and contribute to our nation’s productivity.
